Other strong episodes include "Monday Night Confessions," in which a freewheeling priest invites Tim and Stu over to his loft apartment, to drink beers with his girlfriend, watch "Monday Night Football," and do quickie confessions at halftime (when the priest gives himself eight Hail Marys for an unpaid handjob, Tim notes, "That's not a lot," to which the cheerful priest replies, "It's more than seven"); "Tim, Stu, and Marie," in which Tim tags along on Stu's date with HR head Marie, which she interprets as an invitation for a threesome (when she puts on Kansas' "Dust in the Wind," Tim objects: "That is not good threesome music"); "Suck it Philly," featuring the wonderful Jeff Garlin as Stu's dad; and "Insurmountable High Score," in which Tim fails badly at making amends with the mail guy (Him: "You're not very good at cheering people up, are you?" Tim: "It's not my specialty")
