While Western firms see India as a potential market with its rapidly growing economy, they are wary of the country's laws which don't protect intellectual property rights. Big Pharma critics on the other hand feel a win would jeopardise the supply of cheap generic drugs to millions in India and abroad, since India is the leading exporter of cheap generic drugs. "The stakes are very high on both sides," said Leena Menghaney, a manager in New Delhi for Medecins Sans Frontieres (MSF), which relies on Indian-made generic drugs to treat AIDS and other diseases in Africa and many poor countries.
